

Please do not allow the federal law to override the Wisconsin Do Not Call law. Wisconsin has the provisions that its citizens want, including protection from unwanted solicitation from businesses with which we formerly did business. A large percentage of the calls I used to receive were from former long distance phone carriers which, by their frequency, bordered on harassment. Do not take away the intent of the law in our state and subject us to unwanted activities. All of these organizations have other ways to solicit my business. This does not inhibit their practice of business.
Thank you. Nancy Ciezki
